Balance-Recovery Moments of Truth

Wilri supports you in these moments to experience that you can free yourself from the bondage of old habits and structures.

Finding the inner causes of diseases and illnesses.

Finding the truth in you, the one you really are.

Experience that you are already whole and need to do nothing for that.

Experience that you are whole and that nothing in your life can really influence or attach to you if you are home in that place.

The work stimulates a confronting process, where we can free ourselves from everything what no longer serves you or even burdens you.

That affects every part of life.

In that way light, love and inner peace become alive again, physical and psychical symptoms can change positively.

Many people all over the world describe these events as life-changing and freeing. Wilri and Jakub provide this support for everybody, who are truthfully looking for peace love and freedom.

We invite you to take place in the "Moments of Truth".

We are love, silence and happiness.

We are here to celebrate life in all facets and to be grateful for everything.

How blessed we are.

We invite you to discover your true nature!

Prices vary by country and location.

Family and Group Sessions

Many families visit our Balance-Recovery Moments of Truth on a regular basis. In our groups everyone supports each other to get free of emotional, psychical and mental pain. We saw it many times; amazing things happened in the groups. Parents and children really come together again. If parents open up, kids are changing immediately, because kids are not that captured in structures like grown-ups.

We offer private sessions especially for families where we work together directly on what is there. For example, that might be structures that have been in the family for generations. This is a great opportunity for both younger and older family members to get free of old pain and to come closer to each other.

Information and experience days or evenings

For schools and all other types of educational institutions, as well as Correctional facilities and children's or youth facilities, we offer information and experience days or evenings.

We will enlighten your students and adults on topics such as bullying, ADHD, incomplete or broken families, and the raise of violence and crime.

In a unique way we also explain and let the young people and adults experience the consequences of these issues for their lives. Because only by experiencing they can really learn profoundly.

Our lectures are accompanied by young people who themselves have direct experience of the selected topics and are willing to talk about it openly.

We can let your students learn and experience what is happening in Heads and Hearts of Children who are mobbed or come from broken families. In the same way we are also working with all other difficult life situations.

We can also mediate your students and young people how it feels when you can not turn to anyone, because no one in the family is able to be a caregiver.

Our days and evenings are not just empty words, but we let your students, young people and adults feel what happens inside of other people. Even the compassion and understanding among students, youth and adults for each other is deepened.

We want to give students, young people and adults who have difficulties, the feeling that they are not alone and that there is a helping hand for them when they need it. That's what we do: We provide both your school or facility as an institution, as well as each individual as an independent human a helping hand.
